LOEWE Specialist Library for Conflict Resolution

Literature search

All available printed and electronic media can be researched in the library's catalogue. The literature is arranged freely accessible in workroom N 301, on the third floor of the Bibliothek der Fachhochschule Frankfurt am Main, Nibelungenplatz 1, 60318 Frankfurt am Main. The books and other media can be borrowed immediately. All that is needed is registration in the library.

Registration

The LOEWE Specialist Library for Conflict Resolution is available both to students at Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences and to all interested external users. When borrowing books or other media for the first time, you must register in the library of Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences. This applies regardless of whether you are a member of Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences (student, member of teaching or non-teaching staff) or an external user. Registration in the library of Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences is free, but the user must give his current address.

For students of Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences, the STUDY-CHIP also serves as the library card. Registration in the library activates it for borrowing. As a member of teaching or non-teaching staff or an external user, you will receive your own library card immediately after registration.

Registration for students at Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences

Students at Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences require the following documents for registration:

- signed print-out of the registration form,
- STUDY-CHIP,
- valid ID card
- or passport and current registration certificate (Meldebescheinigung) to prove current address

Registration for external users

Those who are not members of Frankfurt University of Applied Sciences can also use the library. The following documents are required for registration:

- valid ID card
- or passport and current registration certificate (Meldebescheinigung) to prove current address

Borrowing and returns

Books can be borrowed and returned at the service desk on the ground floor of the library. Self-service kiosks are also available. Outside library opening hours, media can be placed in the return boxes in front of the entrance of Building 3 or on the first floor of Building 4.
